DIPACO has added the Celect control valve, RTF26147, to our EUI parts line.

The operation of the Celect control valve is critical to the proper function of the Celect injector. Wear to the various control valve components will affect the injector response to the ECM electrical signal, injection pressure and fuel delivery.

Rebuilding the control valve is a difficult and time-consuming process. Because of extreme component wear or breakage, some valves cannot be rebuilt. DIPACO now offers the option of using a new RTF26147 control valve to provide improved injector performance and durability.
